

I PROMISE

I will make Whole World full of Art

*Let that throbbing energy come out and let our fires grow sky high
Let me listen to your souls and let us enunciate the movement
Beneath every false smile which no one knows why*

I PROMISE

AN AKSHAYASHA JIRAGE PROJECT

I promise

I promise is one of the strategic art experiments for the evolution in interpersonal communication as well as person to community communication. In this project Akshay Asha Jirage expect you to be participated with your numerous concepts of entrepreneurship in Art. If you have any concept for becoming leader in Art then get it to us and promise those things to people through us and our website.

Make a promise of dignity and prosperity to Art world. Come, join us and make promise for the sake of Art. We welcome you as a supporter. All you have to do is as an art folk if you have any idea or project any strategy or any agenda then come along and join us with text mail explaining your concept in brief with earlier work and a cover letter on eande01communication@gmail.com OR post a Promise on our FACEBOOK wall along with Logo downloaded from the website.

5+ people will be selected with their best concepts and projects and that all will be displayed publicly on our website.

Those short listed people will be interviewed and considered an E&E show.

Akshay Asha Jirage now has come along with his new conceptual programme 'I Promise' and agendas for the particular will be Art Everywhere and Art for Everyone
